Tried to Be Fair, Welfare Head Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Len E. Blaylock said Monday that his first 51 weeks as state Welfare Commissioner had not been very satisfying.

"I don't really feel any sense of achievement," Blaylock said, "other than to say I've tried my best to be fair with the employees, the welfare recipients and the taxpayers."

"The programs were already set up when I took over, the money was already appropriated and all we could do was try to carry out what the legislature provided for," Blaylock said.

Blaylock, 50, said however, that he wanted to remain on the job.

Blaylock also said that the job had changed his views somewhat. He said he was a pretty stern conservative when he took the job that the position had moved him nearer a liberal view.

"You can't work in this job without getting a feeling of deep sympathy for welfare clients," he said. "These people have no lobby, especially the children, and you get to feeling responsible for them."

"I felt responsible to the taxpayer at first, but now I suppose I feel more responsible to the welfare recipient," he said.

Med Center Must Withhold Union Dues

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor John T. Jernigan has ruled that the University of Arkansas Medical Center must withhold union dues through payroll deductions for the members of the two unions which work at the Medical Center.

One of the unions, the Hospital, Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Workers Union, Local 200, filed a suit against Storm Whaley, vice president for health sciences at the University of Arkansas.

It was determined during the trial that the members of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union also wanted the Medical Center to check-off union dues when the employees requested that this be done.

Whaley testified at the trial in February that the dues were

Thousands in Tribute to Dr. King

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — They came from many places, and they were guided, as they marched mournful and silent along Main Street, by the nonviolent teachings of the man they had come to honor, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

They stood under overcast skies on the broad plaza in front of Memphis' new City Hall to hear his widow challenge them in slow, strong tones to "see that his spirit never dies."

And they heard the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, King's close friend and successor, promise to return to Memphis with Mrs. King to help the garbage strikers whose plight had first drawn King to the city where he became the victim of an assassin.

"It was a beautiful march," said a young lady Monday as she returned along streets strewn with posters reading "Honor Dr. King, End Racism." Police estimated 19,000 marchers.

Eight abreast, hands often linked, the slow procession wound from the littered streets near Clayborn Temple, deep in the Negro slum area, past the smashed windows of Beale Street, testimony to the violent end of King's last march the week before, and into the modern, marble world of downtown Memphis.

Little gasps went up on all sides as the widow, her pretty face framed by a black veil that fell over the shoulders of her simple black dress, joined the front of the march with three of her four children near the midway point.

A portion of the 5,000 National Guardsmen quartered here guarded the march route, some in the turrets of M-48 tanks, the first time such vehicles have been used to keep the peace in Memphis.

"How many men must die before we can really have a free and true and peaceful society? How long will it take?" asked Mrs. King from the speaker's platform at City Hall.

"My husband was a loving man, a man who was completely dedicated to nonviolence," she said. "We want to carry on the best we can in the tradition which we feel he would want us to carry on."

"We must carry on, because this is the way he would have wanted it." Negotiations over the seven-week-old garbage strike, where union recognition is a key factor, were recessed Tuesday to permit both sides to attend King's funeral in Atlanta, his home.

3 Arkansans Killed in War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department released a list Monday of 82 servicemen, including three Arkansans, who had been killed in action in Vietnam.

The victims were identified as Army S. Sgt. Marvin E. Burrows, husband of Mrs. Mary A. Burrows of New Blaine (Logan County); Army Pfc. Jewel L. Rainwater, son of Mrs. Luella Rainwater of Van Buren, and Marine Pfc. Cecil L. Jones, brother of Jonah E. Jones of Jonesboro.

Words Won't Prevent Race Unrest

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William L. "Sonny" Walker, director of the Pulaski County Economic Opportunity Agency, said Monday that words would no longer be enough to prevent racial unrest in Arkansas.

"We are not at a point where we will explode without giving us all an opportunity to work it out," Walker said at a news conference. "But I don't know how long this will be."

"We cannot any longer make promises that we can't keep," he said. "We cannot any longer make promises that we don't intend to keep. "Little Rock can be a tranquil, stable city," Walker said. "Pulaski County can be a tranquil, stable county and Arkansas can be a model for the nation."

Walker said Arkansans should take a stand in favor of open housing and urged Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to declare one week of April or early May as Job Opportunity Week.

He said the problem of recreational facilities in a neighborhood should be solved and that school facilities should be made available for job training programs.

Mixed Reviews for Youth, 15

LONDON (AP) — A 15-year-old boy who made a double debut Sunday night with the London Symphony Orchestra—as both composer and conductor—got mixed reviews from British critics today.

Oliver Knussen did better with the audience at the Royal Festival Hall. He blushed and smiled his way through 10 minutes of cheering applause and five curtain calls after conducting the orchestra in the premiere of his own first symphony.

Oliver, son of the orchestra's principal bass player, Stuart Knussen, conducted the 25-minute symphony of four movements without a baton.

and that it "was not feasible to reroute" around the slide area because it was in line with the river bridge.

Leathers said a rock dam was built between the road bed and the river to prevent any future slides.

"I hesitate to guess how much it cost us," Leathers said.

He added that Dave Gedney of Washington, a bureau expert on slides, was scheduled to be in Arkansas this week to check the area to see if he believed corrective measures had been virtually assured.

"It was just one of those things that happened," Pendergrass said. "You can't fight nature."

"We don't think this was any monumental engineering blunder," Pendergrass added.

The engineer said he did not believe the slide caused any delay in the construction work because the damaged area was repaired during the winter months when construction does not go on anyway.

"I think we are still on schedule," he said. "We contemplated it to be a two-year job and we are about two-thirds completed," he said.

Pendergrass referred to the Interstate 30 construction between Malvern and Arkadelphia.

He said it should be ready for traffic by this fall, providing Arkansas with interstate travel on the highway all the way from Little Rock to the Little Missouri River near Prescott.

He said only a six-mile stretch between Social Hill and Rockport, south of Malvern, remained under construction on the Malvern to Arkadelphia link.

Leathers said the slide affected only between 600 and 1,000 feet of the road bed.

Leathers also said that the site of the slide was at the closest point to the river but that he was not certain of the distance involved.

Jan Barna writes from Montreal, "Knowing your sense of humor, I thought you might appreciate what happened in our weekly duplicate game at the Chateau Bridge Club.

"I was sitting South and my wife North. East opened one no-trump, but I wasn't paying much attention and thought that he had passed. When West passed also and my partner bid two clubs, I thought she had opened with a forcing bid. Incidentally, her two-club bid was the Landy Convention showing two both majors.

"When I replied two diamonds, West doubled. I don't know exactly why, but I guess he didn't really have any reason to do so. Anyway, my wife bid two hearts and, in typical husband and fashion, I jumped to three no-trump. East doubled and West opened the jack of clubs.

"Dummy's queen lost to East's ace and a club came back. West played the 10 and I was in dummy with the king. I led a diamond, taken by East's king. A third club was won by my nine and I cleared the diamond suit. East had no defense at this point and, for want of seeing anything better to do, led another diamond. I cashed my diamonds and the last club while discarding down to the ace-king-10 of hearts in dummy. East made the mistake of letting a heart go, so I overtook my queen of hearts and made an overtrick at my silly doubled contract.

"My wife asked if I were crazy to bid three no-trump against an opening no-trump with my five points, and for the first time I realized that I had not heard the opening bid. The best I could do was to apologize to my wife and our unfortunate opponents, but I did not give back the top score."

We have heard of many instances of a player not hearing an opening bid. Most of the time, the result is catastrophic. We are glad to learn that this time the failure to pay attention was well-rewarded.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

AN ENCOURAGING ANSWER TO A DISCOURAGED GIRL

Dear Helen: This is my answer to the girl who was "Discouraged" because her brother told her boys date for only two reasons.

THE FABLE OF HARVIN

Once upon a time, in a land as far away as the dog swims, there was a wonderful place called "Datin'."

Now "Datin'" was inhabited by two kinds of people—the HEs and the SHEs, known collectively as "Daters." They followed two principles: No. 1—The HEs met the SHEs only to see what they could get; or No. 2—They mixed for the Security of the Steady.

And all was sweetness and light 'cause all Daters followed the rules even if they didn't agree. If they objected they might get doorknocked to death.

Well... in this place of "Datin'" came a brave young HE called Harvin, who right away met up with this SHE, name of Febbie. But alas, poor Harvin, being a newcomer from the "Land of Toys," didn't know the rules. He asked Febbie to meet him, not for What He Could Get or for Status, but just 'cause he liked her.

Well, of course, soon as word got out, Harvin was doorknocked to death. But you know, just like J. Washington and his apple tree, Harvin's ideal lived on. And would you believe it? To this day the HEs still remember Harvin's idea and now they use all three reasons for asking the SHEs to meet them... Cause there are so many HEs following in his footsteps, that they ran out of doorknocks!—FOLLOWER OF HARVIN

Dear Follower: Hey, you've got a good thing goin' there—

Just about everybody in Jiles County knows Stanley Marcus... President of Nelman Marcus in Dallas... and he says... "We have three fashions... the mini, the midi and the maxi. The choice depends on the person and the occasion." As far as Raley's Style Shoppe is concerned we are selling mostly the midi which covers the knee... practically everyone we know is happy with the in-between...

Manufacturers and Designers say... "The maxi is too much bulk... too much skirt... too impractical for the average woman. It is better for after-five..."

Others say... "It is for Juniors who have never known long skirts... except for playing dress-up. The long skirts make the mature woman feel 'dowdy'."

These are a few of the midi reactions we heard about at market and so far, the many, many resources of Raley's are staying with the short skirts. Like, for instance... the new L'Aiglon Originals. They are normal lengths, washable fabrics, crisp, new, smart and so wearable! Priced from $18.00 right on up. You will find sizes, styles and prices for every woman. Buccaneers, Chaparrals Play Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New Orleans Buccaneers and the Dallas Chaparrals get the professional basketball playoff ball rolling again tonight.

It will be the first action in either the American Basketball Association or the National Basketball Association since last Saturday because of mourning for Dr. Martin Luther King, the slain civil rights leader.

Boston May Boycott Olympics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ralph Boston, the world record holder in the long jump, said Monday night he may boycott the Olympic Games because of the death of the civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In a telephone interview with the Los Angeles Times, Boston said he originally decided not to boycott the Games in Mexico City this October because he didn't think "the Games should be used as a political crutch."

Casper Now Going After Masters

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Billy Casper's golf credentials are highly impressive, but he still has one more goal he yearns to attain—his first Masters championship.

When the 36-year-old Californian flew out of Greensboro Monday night he was $27,500 richer after winning the $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open with a record-equalling 267. A double round was played Monday because of two earlier postponements.

Today he began practice for that elusive Masters championship, confident that "I'm going into the Masters (Thursday) with the best chance I've ever had."

Despite a layoff of almost two months while he visited U.S. forces in the Far East, Casper returned to competition here with a remarkable display of consistent golf. His scores were 65-67-69-66, a 17-under par performance over the 7,034-yard Sedgefield Country Club course.

George Archer finished 67-65 for his runnerup tie at 271 with Bobby Nichols and Gene Littler. Each won $11,229.

Experts Still Apart on the Altitude

By BEN F. MEYER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists have come up with yes and no answers to the question: "Will Mexico City's high altitude bother athletes in the Olympic Games next October?"

New records may be set, the experts concluded, in events requiring spurts of energy, such as the 100-meter dash, the pole vault, the shot put, and competition depending more on skill than on muscular power.

But athletes in stamina contests, such as the long-distance runners, swimmers and competitors in similar events, may be in for trouble.

The problem is that there is about 25 per cent less oxygen at Mexico City's 7,800-foot altitude than there is at sea level.

A study of the problem by a group of international experts was reviewed by the Pan-American Health Organization.

The specialists conceded much will depend on individual performance but "there is only an outside chance of participants in endurance sports setting new world records."

And competitors needing spurts of energy "will do better."

In stamina contests, the athlete is fueled with aerobic energy—the kind dependent on oxygen. Dr. Rodolfo Margaria of the Institute of Human Physiology, Milan, Italy, said this is the kind needed for an event lasting more than 90 seconds.

Dr. Alberto Hurtado of Cayetano Heredia University, Lima, Peru, put it this way: "When a man from sea level is exposed to high altitude environments, he is exposed to the difficulty of getting enough oxygen."

California has more school teachers than any other state.

Clark's Body Returned to Scotland

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The body of Jim Clark, one of the world's greatest racing drivers, was brought back to his native Scotland early today.

A chartered plane brought the 32-year-old Clark's body from Frankfurt.

Thousands of saddened Scots were expected to turn out for the funeral Wednesday.

Clark, world driving champion in 1963 and 1965, was killed when his car skidded off the track and somersaulted into a wood at West Germany's Hockenheim track Sunday.

15 Elected to Swimming Hall of Fame

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen persons, including Benjamin Franklin, have been elected to the International Swimming Hall of Fame, it was announced Monday night.

Franklin, the famed printer, author, scientist and public official of the 18th century, was described as America's first internationally famous swimmer, swimming teacher and swimming writer.

Swimming was Franklin's most impressive talent as a young man and he once swam three miles down the Thames River in England.

Buck Dawson, spokesman for the organization, said others elected to the hall of fame by vote of 1,500 swimming coaches included:

Zoltan de Halmay of Hungary, only man to win medals in five Olympics; Dorothy Pointon-Hill, United States, two-time Olympic platform diving champion; George Hodgson, Canada, winner of two gold medals in the 1912 Games; and Dr. Sammy Lee, United States, two-time high diving Olympic winner.

All will be enshrined in the Hall of Fame when its new building is dedicated here in December. Some 71 swimmers have now been elected.

Razorbacks Sweep a Twin Bill

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas swept a baseball doubleheader from Yankton College of Yankton, S.D. here Monday, winning the first game 4-3 and the second 7-2.

Arkansas and Yankton were tied 3-3 entering the fourth inning of the first game. Terry Baker knocked in relief pitcher Steve Reagan with what proved to be the winning run.

Arkansas broke open the second game with five runs in the first. The Razorbacks play Oklahoma City University here this afternoon.

Sports World in Tribute to King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The sports community begins stirring again tonight after three days of postponements in tribute to the slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King.

There was some horse racing scheduled today, notably Keeneland in Kentucky, but many tracks called off their programs.

Tonight the National Hockey League playoffs resume, with Montreal at Boston, Chicago at New York and Los Angeles at Minnesota. The Montreal at Boston game was regularly scheduled for tonight. The other two were rescheduled.

Pro basketball playoff action also resumes tonight with an American Basketball Association game between New Orleans and Dallas at Dallas. The game originally was set for New Orleans Sunday night.

Wednesday the major league baseball season opens and horse racing returns to a full schedule. The National Basketball Association playoffs also resume Wednesday and action in the ABA and NHL continues.

Curtain Is Going Up on Masters

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Lovely ladies sipped drinks under red and green umbrellas by the shady oak tree. Kids darted up to Hideyo Sugimoto, seeking his prized Japanese autograph. The green banner with the famous flagstick patch flew over the big white clubhouse.

The curtain was going up on the 1968 Masters, mecca of golf. But something was missing. Somehow, that first walk over the sprawling Augusta National Course didn't touch off that tingling feeling that this is the Masters.

The 32nd Masters Golf Tournament is scheduled to begin Thursday with a field of only 76, smallest in years.

Players on hand for Monday's somber practice round blamed the mood on the absence of most of the name players, wrapping up play at the Greater Greensboro Open.

"It will pick up when the rest of the players get here," said defending champion Gay Brewer.

Players in the lock room watched television broadcasts commemorating the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Nobel Prize-winning civil rights leader whose burial was set for today.

Then they went back to their golf.

The Masters was on. No ceremonies were planned to mark King's burial in Atlanta, 170 miles to the northwest.

The Negro corps of caddies, waiters and waitresses planned to keep working.

"I am very sympathetic to Dr. King," one caddy said. "But I'll be here. I got a family to feed."

Share of Race Purse Goes to Widow

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Peter Fuller of Boston, owner of Dancer's Image, has given his share of the Governor's Gold Cup horse race purse to the widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Fuller said that about $62,000 would be turned over to Mrs. King and the money could be used for scholarships in memory of the slain civil rights leader, or for whatever use she prefers.

Losses Leave Bruins in a Bad Mood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two straight Stanley Cup hockey setbacks have left the Boston Bruins in a belligerent mood. Harry Sinden hopes they stay that way for tonight's clash with mighty Montreal.

"We have to start skating and start hitting," Coach Sinden said Monday as the brawny Bruins prepared to tackle the Canadiens at Boston tonight.

The New York Rangers entertain the Chicago Black Hawks and the Los Angeles Kings visit the Minnesota North Stars in other National Hockey League playoff action tonight. The Philadelphia Flyers take on the St. Louis Blues Wednesday night at St. Louis.

The latter three games were set back from earlier scheduled dates in deference to the period of national mourning for slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Montreal downed the visiting Bruins 2-1 and 5-3 last week for a commanding lead in their best-of-7 quarter-final set. The Rangers are one up on the Hawks, having taken the series opener 3-1 last Thursday night.

The Kings swept their first two games against Minnesota on home ice, Philadelphia and St. Louis are tied at one victory apiece as their set moves to the Blues' ice.

Miller Barber Gets $3,895

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Miller Barber of Texarkana, Ark., earned $3,895 Monday when he finished in a three-way tie for eighth place in the $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Barber had rounds of 70-67-66-71 for a 274 total. Billy Casper won the $27,500 top prize with a 267 total for 72 holes.

A-State in Win Over St. Louis U.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Stan Williams singled home Wayne Pitcock in the sixth inning to provide the margin for Arkansas State University's 2-1 victory over St. Louis University here Monday.

John Ford, who scattered 10 hits, was the winning pitcher. He pitched six innings Friday and won in relief Saturday.

Williams singled in the sixth after Pitcock had tripled. ASU's first run came in the initial inning when Dana Ryan singled, stole second and scored on two errors.

St. Louis U. tied the game in the fourth on a double by Frank Obermeier and a single by Ray Rohr.

Finds Snake Hunting Good in Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ray Jacobs makes his living by pouncing on men. For a hobby, he pounces on snakes.

Jacobs is a 6-foot-3, 285-pound defensive tackle for the Miami Dolphins. But when he stops slamming into other big men and takes off the helmet with a fish painted on it, he likes to hunt for the deadly Florida cousins of the diamondback rattlesnakes he came to know around his hometown in Texas.

Jacobs has found good hunting around his new home on the northwest side of Miami.

"The woods near the house are full of them," he said. "They like to hang out in the tall grass or where it's swampy. You can find all the rattlers you want in undeveloped areas around here."

Jacobs moved his wife and three children when Denver traded him to Miami. He was a Miami standout despite bobbing around all season on a torn ankle tendon.

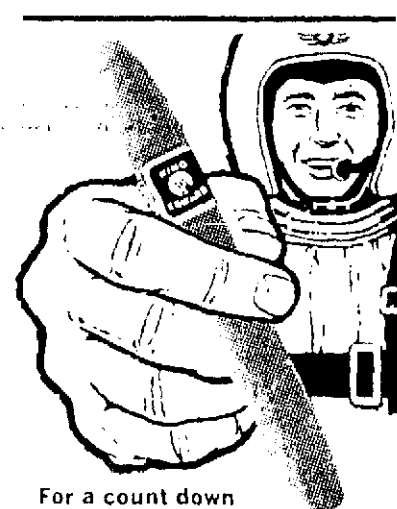

The football played in Miami is about what he is accustomed to. But the snake hunting is more dangerous.

Around Corsicana, Tex., there's not so much brush. "It's open country. When I came here I found out you have to be real careful with all the high grass," he said.

Jacobs usually disposes of the serpents with a gun and sometimes gives the rattlers to neighborhood children to take to school. The kids love it.

Welterweight Fighter Hurts Hand

TOKYO (AP) — World junior welterweight champion boxer Paul Fuji of Tokyo has suffered a fractured bone in his left hand. As a result, doctors Tuesday pronounced him unfit for his second title defense—against the Philippines' Pedro Adigue scheduled for June 6 in Tokyo.

Rights Bill Is Likely by Thursday

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House backers of a Senate-passed civil rights-open housing bill express wary confidence that the controversial measure will be sent to President Johnson before the Easter recess starts Thursday. Two major steps must be taken first.

The initial move was a vote scheduled for today by the House Rules Committee, which last month refused to give immediate clearance for a House showdown on the bill.

The second and final congressional step—a vote on enactment—would be taken Wednesday if the committee acts in response to leadership hopes and requests.

Even opponents of the bill in its present form voice doubt they can further delay a decision. They lost one of their followers over the weekend when Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, one of the five Republican Rules Committee members, switched his position.

Anderson was on the winning side of the 8-7 committee vote last month that slowed down the bill's progress.

The issue before the Rules panel and the House itself is whether to send the measure to a Senate-House conference committee for compromise or send it directly to the President by accepting a major Senate open-housing provision.

This provision would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of about 80 per cent of the nation's housing. The bill also would seek protection for civil rights workers, penalize rioters and extend constitutional guarantees to American Indians.

Whether the assassination last week of Negro leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the subsequent violence in big cities—including rioting near Capitol Hill itself—helped or hurt the bill's chances was debatable.

There was an apparent weakening of the ranks of House Republicans who earlier had favored sending the bill to a compromise committee—a move backers said could result in a later Senate filibuster.

Family Is First Says Manager

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, the Chicago White Sox's manager who is often painted as a man completely dedicated to baseball, Monday dismissed the idea of such an image.

"All the dedication in the world isn't going to see a contract extended once you fail to produce," said Stanky. "Sure, I like to win and I want to win. But my first obligation is to my wife and children."

"That comes first," said Stanky. "That's where I'm dedicated. Baseball comes second."

Stanky was talking as his White Sox went through a brief drill in preparation for their rescheduled opener against Cleveland on Wednesday.

Originally slated for Tuesday, the opener was moved back because of the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Stanky, in his third year at the White Sox helm, picked the Boston Red Sox to repeat for the American League pennant because "I always stick with the champion. You have to beat the champions."

Planes Key to Breaking Red Siege

SAIGON (AP) — Senior U.S. officers say the tremendous amount of American air power thrown against the North Vietnamese around Khe Sanh helped break the 77-day siege of the Marine combat base and prevented the enemy from launching a mass attack.

The 71 days between the start of the siege on Jan. 21 and March 31, U.S. warplanes dropped 95,430 tons of explosives around the base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. That was about one-sixth the total amount dropped in the entire Korean War.

U.S. fighter-bomber pilots flew a total of 21,901 sorties in support of Khe Sanh during those 71 days, an average of 308 a day. A sortie is one flight by one plane.

Perhaps even more significant were the 425 missions flown by the Air Force's giant B52 saturation bombers, each of which can carry up to 25 tons of bombs.

Monroe Only Unanimous Rookie Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Monroe of Baltimore is the only unanimous choice on this season's National Basketball Association All-Rookie team announced today.

Monroe received a vote from each of the league's 12 coaches. Bob Rule of Seattle and Walt Frazier of New York got 11 votes apiece.

Rounding out the team were Al Tucker of Seattle and Phil Jackson of New York with eight votes each.

You say you wonder what your phone will be like in the year 2000?

By the turn of the century, chances are you won't recognize the familiar telephone. Based on services already in use or on the drawing boards, you can expect some pretty far-out developments.

For example, Picturephone® sees while-you-talk service, already in limited use, might well be offered in full color and three dimensions. With it, you could do the family grocery shopping, look at the new cars, or buy a new hat without leaving the house.

Electronic switching equipment, now in trial use, will call you back when a busy line you have called is free, or transfer your calls to another phone while you're away from home.

Telephones will be free to go where you go. A cordless portable extension phone, complete with dial, is currently undergoing tests.

Money handling will be revolutionized. You won't need to write checks or pay cash for most purchases. A telephone call to your bank's computer will take care of the payment. The same system will automatically pay monthly bills which you authorize and keep track of your bank balance. It might even figure your income tax.

By the year 2000, your telephone will probably be doing many other jobs that now seem unthinkable. But then, television, satellites, computers—even the telephone—were "impossible" 100 years ago.

Looking ahead to keep ahead in communications is one way we try to make your every "hello" a real good buy.

TOWERING 34 feet over a small park in Norrköping, Sweden, the Prisma, world's biggest glass sculpture, is made of 3,500 panes of window glass glued together to form a 33-ton obelisk. Artist Vico Lindstrand created the $35,000 sculpture on commission from the city of Norrköping. The process turned plain glass into a giant prism that absorbs, refracts and changes light from all directions, dissolving it into all the colors of the spectrum.

Sugar Diabetes, Inborn Error of Metabolism

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is sugar diabetes? How does it start? How does one get it? Why do some people lose a leg with it? If you have it, do you have to be on a rigid diet for the rest of your life?
A—Sugar diabetes or diabetes mellitus is an inborn error of metabolism as a result of which the body cannot utilize the blood glucose derived from the sugars and starches in the diet. The victim's blood sugar level rises high above normal and some of the sugar spills over into the urine.
Early symptoms, when the onset occurs in childhood, are inordinate thirst, increased appetite, frequent urination and loss of weight. When the onset occurs after age 25, the only symptoms may be loss of weight and weakness. Both types are hereditary. Eating a diet high in sugar and starch is an aggravating factor.
Complications of the disease may occur in any part of the body due to interference with the circulation (diabetic lesions of the blood vessels and nerves). The complications strike where a weakness already exists. When the lower extremity is the target, gangrene of the toes occurs. This may progress upward and necessitate amputation of a leg.
A fairly rigid diet is an important part of the treatment. Since the disease can be controlled but not cured, the treatment must be continued for life.
Q—What is meant by sugar in the vessels of a diabetic's eyes? What can be done for it?
A—Diabetes may cause changes in the blood vessels of the retina, leading to blindness. The progress of this complication can sometimes be halted by destroying the pituitary gland either through surgical removal or deep X-ray treatments.
Q—What is diabetic neuropathy? Is there any cure? What kind of doctor should a person with this disease go to?
A—This is a complication of diabetes which may affect the nerves in any part of the body. Treatment is difficult and requires the combined efforts of a nerve specialist, a diabetic specialist and often others.
Q—Every time I have a checkup for diabetes they do only a urine test. Is it necessary to have a blood test, too?
A—Because diabetes can often be detected earlier by testing the blood sugar level than by urinalysis, the blood test is urged for all persons who are past 40, especially if there is any family history of the disease.

No Early Cure Obituaries for Problems Forecast

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield forecasts no early Capitol Hill cure for problems reflected by the violence that has wracked the nation in recent days.

Mansfield said in an interview he'll push a post-Easter drive to pass legislation aimed at meeting major social problems. But he conceded it is unlikely to reach the roots of ferment that exploded into violence after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

He listed for early action a so-called "safe streets" bill, a juvenile delinquency measure and legislation to give the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission power to enforce its orders.

Mansfield voiced hope the House will act this week on a Senate-passed civil rights bill, which includes an open-housing provision.

But beyond that he said he thinks it will be wise to have members of Congress test reaction back home in a week's Easter recess beginning Thursday before acting on any new proposals that may be aimed at the core of discontent in city slums.

Mansfield urged his colleagues Monday not to act impetuously in the aftermath of King's murder. He said greater responsibility by individual citizens, rather than new legislation, is "vitally necessary to regain our self-respect."

Mansfield said President Johnson, in discussions with congressional leaders, had not outlined any legislative proposals he might make.

Mansfield was noncommittal about when the Senate will act on a supplementary money bill from which a Senate-House conference committee deleted $100 million for summer poverty programs.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in a statement he will oppose final approval of the bill unless the funds are restored. The "safe streets" bill would provide for federal grants to improve state and local police forces, curb handgun sales, authorize wiretapping by law enforcement officers under court orders and remove Supreme Court restrictions on police questioning of criminal suspects.

A Senate Labor subcommittee has approved legislation authorizing a $250 million outlay over the next four years to revive a program of prevention and rehabilitation among juvenile delinquents.

The administration has been unable to pry out of the Labor Committee a measure to give the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission power to enforce its orders against job discrimination.

Business leaders have contended this would put the federal government in a position to tell them who to hire.

Although national labor leaders support the measure, many individual unions oppose it on the ground it would open their membership rolls to persons they regard as unqualified.

Congress More Receptive to a Tax Hike

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — National and world conditions seem to be creating a more favorable atmosphere in Congress for a tax increase.

The economy, the Vietnam war, the balance-of-payments deficit and the gold crisis have already been cited by government experts to back their appeal for adoption of the 10 per cent tax surcharge.

Now, racial violence has swept American cities and is expected to produce a new presidential call for help to the Negro slums. This could increase pressure for higher taxes, at least indirectly.

There has been speculation that to pay for slum programs, President Johnson could ask for a surcharge in excess of the 10 per cent he requested last August, but government sources see little chance of this.

The administration, however, has already said that conditions before the racial violence required a tax increase of at least 10 per cent.

Officials said the violence is likely to have a greater direct impact on congressional efforts to cut spending in programs affecting the Negro.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Ralph H. Lutz, 81, director of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University from 1920 to 1944, died Monday. Lutz, one of the historical experts who helped Herbert Hoover set up the institution, was a leading authority on German history.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Brig. Gen. Roswell Winans, 80, who as a Marine Corps first sergeant won the Medal of Honor in a 1916 Dominican Republic campaign, died Saturday night. Winans retired in 1946.

Congress last January, President Johnson singled out six selected areas for spending increases—manpower training, model cities, programs to control the rising crime rate, family planning and health care for mothers and infants, air and water pollution control, and education.

Some key members of Congress have suggested holding spending in the next fiscal year to the current level, thus negating any increase in these programs.

This weekend's racial violence was only the latest in a series of events dating back to last November which the administration regards as pointing to the need for higher taxes in the administration's thinking.

The chain began with devaluation of the British pound on Nov. 18 and the subsequent gold crises, climaxed in mid-March by a ban on sales of gold to speculators from government supplies and the end of the London gold pool.

In between, the administration sandwiched its program to reduce the flow of dollars to other countries by $3 billion this year. The core of this balance of payments program is the 10 per cent tax surcharge.

In announcing a moderate increase in troop strength in Vietnam just over a week ago, President Johnson made another impassioned plea for the surcharge.

Although the immediate impact of the racial violence is expected to come in low-cost programs such as civil rights and open-housing legislation, the long-run measures will cost money and lots of it.

Jury Picked But Wasn't Needed

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The state's first petit jury to be chosen entirely at random reported to the El Dorado division of federal District Court Monday but the group's services were not needed.

The civil cases set for trial had either been settled or continued and one of the two criminal cases scheduled had been continued. The defendant in the other one changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Sixty-five jurors had been chosen but 14 were excused before the reporting date. There were eight Negroes and 17 women among the 51 jurors who reported.

Judge Oren Harris said he would use the same group later this spring.

The jury members were selected from the voter registration lists of the counties in the El Dorado division.

CITIES UNDER from Page One

Baltimore, 2 in the Detroit area and one each in Cincinnati, Minneapolis, Memphis and Tallahassee, Fla.

Relative calm existed today in Chicago, Pittsburgh and Washington with heavy troop patrols enforcing the uneasy peace. Arrests for curfew violations soared in the nation's capital.

The nationwide deployment of 61,000 troops was apparently the largest such force ever turned out for a civil emergency in the United States.

Baltimore police said they had confirmed five separate sniping incidents Monday night at locations around the heart of the city. No one was hit. It was the first outbreak since the start of burning and looting Sunday.

The additional troops raised to 10,000 the military force occupying the city and Lt. Gen. Robert H. York ordered rigid enforcement of a 4 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew.

The number of arrests rose rapidly, passing 3,600 for the duration of the disturbances. Authorities contended the peak had been reached in the violence with Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro saying, "We're over the hump. I'm encouraged."

A state of emergency remained in effect in Wilmington, Del., today after a night of sniping, firebombing and looting in a Negro neighborhood. Twelve persons were injured, one seriously.

City police controlled the situation but there were 50 state policemen and 1,200 National Guardsmen standing by to aid them if needed. Minor trouble broke out about noon then erupted full scale at night.

In Youngstown some 400 National Guardsmen and police patrolled three sections after a brief flurry of gunfire and firebombings that left three men wounded, including two policemen.

The city was under a 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew. All bars in Mahoning County were ordered closed for 72 hours beginning at 7 p.m. Monday. Gas stations were also ordered closed.

Cincinnati police said the 2½ hours of rioting there occurred after a rumor spread that a white policeman had shot a Negro woman. Police said the woman was killed accidentally by her husband.

During the rioting in the Mount Auburn area, Noel Wright, 30, was pulled from his car, beaten and fatally stabbed. His wife, Lois, 28, was beaten by three Negro girls but was not seriously injured.

Five judges heard rioters' cases into the night at municipal court. Some were sentenced to jail terms or fined up to $500 within a few hours of their arrests.

Lootings and Fires Slack in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fires and looting diminished today under the steadily tightening grip of more than 10,000 federalized troops, but an outbreak of sniping added a new worry as Baltimore entered the fourth day of civil disorders.

Five separate sniping incidents were confirmed by police Monday night at locations ringing the heart of the city. No one was hit. It was the first such outbreak since the start of looting and burnings Saturday.

The first flare-ups involving whites and Negroes also came Monday. Two incidents were quelled by troops without serious results.

With crowds ransacking stores and setting fires at a steady pace in predominantly Negro areas throughout the day, authorities brought in an additional 1,900 federal troops, raising to more than 10,000 the military force occupying the city.

The reinforcements were from the 197th Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

With his bearded forces, Lt. Gen. Robert H. York ordered rigid enforcement of a 4 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew. The number of arrests climbed rapidly, passing the 3,600 mark for the duration of the rioting.

City police said more than 1,700 looting incidents had been reported since Saturday and the number of fires was placed at about 800.

Five persons have died in the violence and more than 500 persons, about 40 of them policemen and firemen, have been injured.

Disorders flared out from the heart of the city during the daylight hours Monday in areas populated mostly by Negroes. The downtown business and shopping district remained unscathed.

Despite the violence, authorities contended the peak had been reached.

Monday Was Arkansas Day at HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Tower of the Americas remained closed Monday at HemisFair and officials could say only that it would be open sometime later this week.

Officials announced Saturday, opening day of the fair, that the tower would open early this week. But Monday they said work left to be done included pavement around the base of the 622-foot HemisFair theme structure, installation of carpeting, adjusting an elevator and general cleaning.

Out-of-town HemisFair visitors who held ticket books bought before the fair were allowed to ascend to the observation deck. Officials decided last week to make the exception.

To San Antonians, however, the tower remains closed. Monday was Arkansas Day at the fair and Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was on hand to dedicate his state's pavilion.

In his address, the governor said that "Arkansas is on the go, Arkansas is awake, Arkansas is participating in the growth of our great nation."

It was at Morehouse that King earned his bachelor's degree and first shaped his doctrine of peaceful social dissent. Dr. Benjamin Mays, retired president of Morehouse and one of King's college instructors, leads the public service.

Afterward the funeral cortege will go by car to the South View Cemetery, five miles from the college, where King will be entombed in a marble mausoleum on a grassy hillside.

Other officials among the thousands of mourners in Atlanta today include Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Undersecretary-General Ralph Bunche, representing the United Nations.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, arrived in Atlanta Monday night and visited with Mrs. King before viewing King's body.

Kennedy and his wife moved past the coffin in the dimly lighted church while an unseen organist played the old spiritual "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See."

Mourners kept moving past the glass-covered casket, past the stillied form and back outside the red brick church called Ebenezer—which in Hebrew means "stone of help."

Across the nation, U.S. flags were at half staff, stock exchanges closed, sports events delayed, banks shut down in some areas, many schools closed and the roulette wheels and gaming tables stopped in Las Vegas, Nev., in tribute to King.

Memorial services were held in many cities over the weekend. The President attended a service in the capital.

While Violence Raged Small Groups Call for Calm Over Riots Noise

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
While violence seared more than a dozen U.S. cities in the wake of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s assassination, a small group, Negro and white, have been trying to make the voice of calm heard over the noise of riots.

Two rival Negro street gangs in Chicago, the Blackstone Rangers and the Disciples, arranged a truce so their 3,000 members could work together to try to quiet riot-torn areas.

Huge amounts of material aid—food, clothing, furniture and other supplies—were being poured into stricken areas from suburbs and other Chicago neighborhoods to help those made homeless by fire. Hundreds of offers of homes came from both white and black.

Young Negroes in Minneapolis banded together to patrol the streets after dark. Calling themselves "Citizen Protectors," the youths drive cars with black flags, urging calm and telling

Cities Under Protection of Troops

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
Some 61,000 National Guardsmen and Army troops were deployed in the nation's troubled cities today to curb the spasms of violence that have shaken the urban centers since the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
An additional 1,900 federal troops dispatched to Baltimore Monday helped hold a steadily tightening grip on the city today. Fires and looting diminished but an outbreak of sniping added new worry.
Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes sent some 1,800 guardsmen to Cincinnati and Youngstown as the two cities were added to the growing list of areas hit by racial turmoil.
In Cincinnati a white college teacher was dragged from his car and stabbed to death Monday night at the height of rioting in several Negro sections of the city.
The death brought to 28 the number of known dead in five days of rioting in dozens of cities. All but four of the dead were Negroes. More than 1,600 have been injured and more than 10,000 arrested.
The death toll included 11 in Chicago, 6 in Washington, 5 in LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office Monday informed Hempstead County Clerk Pat McCain that Arkansas residents working outside the state with the U.S. Civil Service must register in their home counties to be eligible to vote.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Thomas A. Glaze wrote the opinion. Glaze said members of the armed forces and their spouses are the only persons exempted from registering under the Voter Registration law.
The attorney general's office said, in other opinions:
— A public school director who owns no property in his school district is ineligible to serve and subject to ouster.
— Arkansas' new highway safety law requires motorcycles or similar vehicles operating on public roads to have their headlights on in the daytime as well as at night.
— Candidates for municipal offices are not required to file corrupt practice pledges to qualify for office.

Miniskirt Arrival Has Turned Girl Watching Into a Very Fine Art

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Girl watching has always been a major industry in the American business office, but the arrival of the miniskirt turned it into a fine art.
You can tell a person's character—or lack of it—by the way he gazes at the dames that pass his desk during what is referred to, sometimes laughingly, as the work day.
Sometimes he will demonstrate more real acting skill than goes into the winning of the average Motion Picture Academy Award.
If you look around your own office, you may note some of the following familiar types of miniskirt viewers:

Engineering Blunder Denied But Landslides Delay I-30 Stretch

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of the Arkansas Highway Department and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads denied Monday that any "monumental engineering blunder" had occurred on the construction of Interstate 30 near Malvern.
The denial came after Alex Washburn, publisher of the Hope Star, wrote in his Daily Bread column that he had received rumors that construction of the road along the Ouachita River bank was being delayed because of erosion damage.
Washburn wrote that he was not in the habit of reporting

Wagon to Carry Body of Dr. King

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A farm wagon drawn by two Georgia mules carries the body of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. through Atlanta streets today as part of funeral services for the slain civil rights leader.
King, apostle of nonviolence through a decade of discontent, planned to send mule trains to Washington during a demonstration this spring to dramatize his demands for jobs or income for the poor.
"We agreed nothing would be more symbolic than this for his last ride," said Dr. William Rutherford, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference which King headed.
Dignitaries led by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, representing President Lyndon Johnson, were on the mourners list for the funeral rites at the Ebenezer Baptist Church where King was co-pastor with his father.
Mrs. John F. Kennedy was among the 1,300 invited to the services led by King's associate and SCLC successor, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, and the Rev. William Holmes Borders. The number was limited to the church seating capacity.
The 10:30 a.m. funeral service for the 39-year-old Nobel Peace Prize recipient who was killed by a sniper Thursday night in Memphis, Tenn., is brief—at Mrs. King's request.
After the service, thousands of mourners planned to march through the streets in procession behind the mule-drawn wagon containing King's body rumors but that "the long delay on the Malvern-Arkadelphia road makes us suspect the rumor is true."

Washburn said he wanted publication of the rumor to serve a useful purpose by forcing authorities to make a public statement on whether there had been river damage to the road bed.
He wrote that there had been and implication that, if true, "someone had made a monumental engineering blunder."
However, Rex Leathers, director of the state office of the Bureau of Public Roads, and John Pendergrass, chief engineer of the state Highway Department, denied it.
Leathers said there had been some slowdown in the construction process along the river bank south of Malvern because of a landslide last fall.
"It caused some delay," Leathers said. "The grading contract had been completed in that area when the slide occurred," he added. The road bed had been built up and was about ready for paving, he said.
Leathers said highway officials determined after the slide that it would be "good, common engineering practice to correct a slide of this type."

See ENGINEERING on Page Three Sanitation Fees Called Inadequate

Hope Sanitarian, Jewel May, has just completed a tour of several Arkansas cities to study their trash and garbage disposal methods and charges.
The City Board of Directors recently asked for a complete review of Hope's Sanitation Program to determine what steps would be necessary to make the service pay its own way.
The study revealed that it costs $50.00 a month to handle the trash from some locations that are now being charged $15.00 per month. Mr. May in reviewing other cities, found that the large supermarkets in other communities were paying from $50.00 to $80.00 per month for daily trash and garbage removal service, which is more than three times the present charges in Hope.
The City of Hope's charges reveal that the daily collection service furnished to all businesses was being carried on at a terrific loss. The Sanitation Department has worked up a schedule of rates designed to cover the actual cost of handling the trash and refuse from commercial establishments.
A study of other cities shows that residential trash collection varied from $1.25 per residence for once-a-week pickup to $3.00 for a twice-a-week service. The Sanitation Department says that twice a week pickup is necessary to control fly breeding.
Hope's health charges also cover all fly and mosquito work where a number of other cities levy special charges during the summer to carry on this kind of work. The Board of Directors are studying this report.
It was pointed out that when the present rates were established there was not a regular pickup in the residential area and no attempt was made to dispose of the trash at the dump ground. It is now being buried in a sanitary land fill. Machinery costs and labor are also much higher and the present rates will not sustain a good sanitation program. The State Health Department says Hope is operating one of the best sanitation programs in the State of Arkansas, and by far the best of any town the size of Hope.

Officials Discuss Peace Plans

By FRANK CORMIER

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — President Johnson said today the United States is in touch with North Vietnam about alternative sites which could be convenient to both sides for preliminary peace talks.
"We are in agreement with our allies," Johnson added, "and are prepared for ambassadorial contacts just as soon as arrangements can be completed."
Johnson spoke to newsmen briefly after a breakfast conference with Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, and other senior advisers at Camp David near this town of 3,000 persons.
Johnson disclosed Monday an official response from Hanoi to his bid for direct contacts to get talks going between the opposing sides in the Vietnam war.
The United States originally proposed Geneva as the place for U.S. and North Vietnamese envoys to get together, while North Vietnam proposed Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia.
Johnson did not disclose what alternative places the United States had suggested to the Hanoi in the new U.S. exchange with North Vietnam.
Bunker, who arrived this morning at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., outside the nation's capital, flew by helicopter to the camp. He was accompanied by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
In announcing the meeting Monday, Johnson disclosed the receipt of a formal reply from Hanoi to his expressed willingness to undertake preliminary diplomatic contacts with representatives of that Communist regime.
"We shall be trying," he said, "to work out promptly a time and a place for talks."
By talks, Johnson did not mean a full-scale peace parley. Hanoi thus far has signaled that its initial interest is in gaining a promise that the United States will halt unconditionally all bombing of North Vietnam "and all other acts of war" against that country.

Hopes All of Leaders Work Together

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Right Rev. Robert A. Brown, Episcopal Bishop of Arkansas, said Monday that he hoped the white leadership in the state would work with the Negro leadership in Arkansas rather than for the Negro community.
Brown said he hoped the memorial services for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., would move white and Negro leaders to work together to accomplish King's goals.
"It is to be hoped, further, that our white leadership will not enter into these meetings with the spirit of doing something to the Negro community or for the Negro community, but rather that they will meet to do something with the Negro leadership," he said.
"Surely this type of white and Negro communication and cooperation is the best way of memorializing the life and work of Martin Luther King Jr.," Brown said.

U.S., Cong at Cross Purposes in Different Approaches to Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — On the basis of their public positions the United States and North Vietnam are working at cross purposes in their different approaches to Vietnam peace talks.
North Vietnam wants preliminary discussions on when President Johnson will end the rest of the bombing of its territory.
Before ending the rest of the bombing, however, Johnson wants to know whether North Vietnam will level off its heavy infiltration of men and supplies into South Vietnam.
Without some assurance on this point, administration officials say, Johnson would consider it militarily dangerous to stop the limited bombing of the North still permitted under his March 31 order.
Thus the prospects for successful peace talks are regarded in Washington as essentially discouraging at the moment despite the speed of diplomatic developments between Washington and Hanoi during the last 10 days.
But public positions can be changed in private bargaining, and some officials believe an accommodation on the bombing issue may be possible.
North Vietnam's position was made official in its reply Monday to a U.S. message of April 3 notifying Hanoi that Johnson was prepared to establish contact with representatives of North Vietnam.
Johnson plans to send Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman to handle the first phase of preliminary discussions on how to get full-scale peace talks started.
The date and place for these discussions have not been agreed upon. The United States had suggested Geneva; North Vietnam proposed Phnom Penh, Cambodia, where the United States does not have an embassy. Rangoon, Burma, is considered a possible compromise but neither of the other sites has been finally ruled out.
The U.S. reply to the message from Hanoi, which the White House announced Monday, is expected to be sent in the immediate future. Present indications are that the reply will deal primarily with a date and place for Harriman and the North Vietnamese representative to meet, rather than with the issues to be discussed.
The North Vietnamese message was not made public.

War in Lull Amid Peace Maneuvers

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced the end of five Allied operations in the provinces around Saigon and said 3,336 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed. Meanwhile, the war slipped into another of its period lulls amid peace maneuvers by Washington and Hanoi.
The Communist command may be regrouping and refitting its troops or waiting to see what comes of the peace moves. But senior U.S. officers said they saw no signs that the enemy command was de-escalating.
These officers said the termination of the five Allied operations also did not necessarily mean a de-escalation by the allies.
"From time to time we close out and begin new operations," one senior officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff said.
In the five operations, some of them begun last year and others launched as recently as a month ago, 183 Americans were killed and 1,358 wounded, the U.S. Command said, while South Vietnamese, Australian and Thai troops suffered light casualties.
Among the operations was the biggest Allied offensive of the war—Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win, in which some 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops combed the jungles and villages in five provinces around Saigon to prevent a renewal of the Tet offensive against the capital.
The operation accomplished that, but most of the more than 13,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops that had been reported in the area eluded the searching force. U.S. headquarters said 2,658 enemy were killed in the month-long operation and 994 weapons were captured.
Reported Allied casualties were 105 Americans and 193 South Vietnamese killed, and 922 Americans and 472 South Vietnamese wounded.

$1 Million Is Called Inadequate

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Dr. F. Darl Ostrander of Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the American Dental Association, said Monday that President Johnson's request for $1 million for the pilot project of a national dental health program for children is "woefully inadequate."
Ostrander made the comments at a meeting of the Arkansas Dental Association.
Ostrander said the $1 million the president requested in the budget he submitted to Congress this year would aid only about 10,000 of the nation's 10 million indigent and medically indigent children.
